

Conservation Council Fish Forum

Marine Parks and fisheries management: where is the common ground?

Wednesday 2nd December, 6.30 pm

Benham Lecture Theatre,
Adelaide University

(near corner of Frome Rd and Victoria Drive)

Short presentations followed by audience discussion, featuring:

- Robert E Kearney, PhD, DSc, AM
Emeritus Professor of Fisheries
Institute of Applied Ecology
University of Canberra

Professor Kearney has been a vocal critic of the South Australian Marine Park approach but comes seeking constructive debate on the issues

- Representatives of PIRSA
Fisheries and DEH Coast and
Marine Conservation Branch

Southern rock lobster holding a purple urchin with abalone in background (photo courtesy Matt Hoare)

The formal part of the evening will be followed by informal discussion over drinks and nibbles (gold coin donation requested).

Public meeting – open to all

RSVP to Alex: alex.gaut@ccsa.asn.au or call 8223 5155

For more information see: www.ccsa.asn.au/fishforum

The CCSA Fish Forum is a regular event where you can discuss fisheries issues directly with government representatives, scientists and other stakeholders.

